Representative Cases
PERSONAL INJURY/TORT

- Municipal Railway employee negligently operated a city owned truck and killed a very young girl and injured her mother, best friend and friend's grandmother.
- A group of residents sued manufacturers of a nematicide (nematode killer) that was injected into the ground as a gas. Plaintiffs claimed that ground water was contaminated by the nematicide and caused cancer (one case) resulting in wrongful death, sarcoidosis, and property damage. Very complex issues of medical causation were involved.
